Overview

It's hard to think of many better places to be as you lie back pool-side at Can Haya and watch the sun melt into the sea as another magical Ibiza day ends. Can Haya is blessed with more than stunning views however. This newly reformed villa has been designed and decorated in a superbly stylish and tasteful manner and makes a wonderful holiday house. Whilst the front of the villa is all about the striking infinity pool, the inviting sunbathing area and the incredible views there are also lovely natural gardens behind the house including a tree shaded 'petanca' pitch and a wooden platform chill out area. The beautiful bays and coves of the west coast are in easy reach, with the sands of Cala Salada, Cala Gracia and the delightful little Cala Gracioneta all within 2kms.

Accommodation

The distribution works equally well for two families or a group of friends. There are four bedrooms and four bathrooms split between an upper and lower floor of sleeping accommodation. The kitchen and living area are on the main ground floor and connect seamlessly with the covered outside dining and lounge space and the wooden decked pool terrace. The kitchen is a foodies paradise with a great island layout and the spacious outside dining table only a few steps away. To top it off there are lots of places to lie back and relax and find a bit of privacy, including the sofa beds on the easily accessible and child friendly roof area where those amazing views get even better.
